

Key words: company, employees ,employer, crisis ,low-incomings, poverty

Abstract: In this article I'm referring to commercial companies from Romania and their moral dimension of business. I analyze the relation between employer and employees, the conditions that employees have at work, their obligations and rights and the fact that we assist to a crisis of personal in our country. In conclusion I suggest solutions to the problems that persist in romanian commercial companies.