

References:

1. Malcolm Bradbury
Cuts: A Very Short Novel, Picador, London, 2000.
Doctor Criminale, Picador, London, 2000.
From Puritanism to Postmodernism. A History of American Literature, with Richard Ruland, Penguin Books, 1992.
Rates of Exchange, Secker & Warburg, London, 1983.
Stepping Westward, Penguin Books in association with Secker & Warburg, 1968.
The After Dinner Game, Arena, 1988.
The History Man, Vintage, London, 1990.
The Modern British Novel. 1878 – 2001, Penguin Books, London, 2001.
To the Hermitage, Picador, London, 2001.
Why Come to Slaka?, Arena, London, 1987.
"What was Postmodernism? The Arts in and after the Cold War" in International Affairs (Royal Institute of International Affairs 1944–), vol. 71, no 4, Special RIIA 75th Anniversary Issue, October 1995, pp. 763–774, Royal Institute of International Affairs via (links. Jtsor.org)
2. Critical bibliography
Bertens, Hans (1995/ 2005): The Idea of the Postmodern. A History, London and New York: Routledge.
Bradford, Richard (2007): The Novel Now. Contemporary British Fiction, Blackwell Publishing.
Cahoone, Lawrence (ed.) (2003/ 2007): From Modernism to Postmodernism. An Anthology, expanded second edition, Blackwell Publishing.
Carroll, Noel: "Periodizing the Postmodern", CLIO, vol. 26, 1997.
Connor, Steven (1989/ 2006): Postmodernist Culture. An Introduction to Theories of the Contemporary, second edition, Blackwell Publishers.
Eagleton, Terry (1996/ 2007): The Illusions of Postmodernism, Blackwell Publishing.
Harvey, David (1990/ 2007): The Condition of Postmodernity. An Enquiry into the Origins of Cultural Change, Cambridge MA & Oxford UK: Blackwell.
Jameson, Fredric (1991/1993): Postmodernism, or, the Cultural Logic of Late Capitalism, London, New York: Verso.
Malpas, Simon (2005): The Postmodern. The New Critical Idiom, Routledge, London and New York: Taylor and Francis Group.
Lash, Scott (1990): Sociology of Postmodernism, Routledge.
Lindner, Christoph (2003): Fictions of Commodity Culture. From the Victorian to the Postmodern, Ashgate publishing.
Lyon, David (1999): Postmodernity, second edition, Open University Press.
Lyotard, Jean-François (1984/ 2005): The Postmodern Condition: A Report on Knowledge, foreword by Fredric Jameson, Manchester University Press.
Lyotard, Jean-François (1986/1992): The Postmodern Explained to Children. Correspondences 1982–1985, Turnaround.
Silverman, Max (1999/ 2005): Facing Postmodernity. Contemporary French Thought on Culture and Society, Routledge, Taylor & Francis Group.
Williams, Raymond (1989/ 2007): Politics of Modernism, London and New York: Verso.